5.14 Reasons for fall / rise in the total income and PAT in the relevant year

Financial Year 2009-10 vis-à-vis Financial Year 2008-09:

During the financial year 2008-09, the business operations of the Company were affected by Global recession. The major portion of the expenses was in the form of loss on sale of investment in shares. The Company did not have other source of income. Other than that, the Company remained non-operational during the year.

During the year 2009-10, the company earned income from investments only which is a result of improvement in share market. Since the Company remained non-operational during the year, there was no income from operations.

Financial Year 2008-09 vis-à-vis Financial Year 2007-08:

During the year 2007-08, the Company was unable to generate any profits as it had terminated its operations; however some income was generated through investment activities. The new promoters were inducted and had taken control of the management during the year and were exploring various opportunities that could possibly benefit the Company in the near future. The activity of printing and dyeing could not be pursued during the year due to shortage of working capital.

Financial Year 2007-08 vis-à-vis Financial Year 2006-07:

During the financial year 2006-07, the Company could not achieve the sales target mainly due to a steep increase in the 'export quota price' for the export of garments. As a result, the business of export of garments became unviable and therefore the Company utilized its manufacturing facilities for undertaking process job work. Major part of the revenues was from profit on sale of fixed asset, the same was also reflected in the PAT. During the year, the Company's unit at Navi Mumbai was closed down due to unviable operations. There was no income from the core operations for which the company was formed, namely textile manufacturing and processing.
